The Annual Report was presented. It stated that 2,000,000 of passengers had been carried over the road during the past year, making 20,000,000 in all since this road was built, and not a passenger had been injured in life or limb while in the cars. The double track is completed from Jersey City to Rahway. The extensive ferry slips and ferry houses at Jersey City and in New-York are in course of erection.

Speaking of the rejection of the Park Bank by the Clearing House, The Philadelphia Ledger says:

"We suppose that one of the effects of the decision against the Park Bank is to discredit its notes. The rejection in effect is, you are not worthy of the credit and confidence of the other city banks, and, with this public avowal of the fact, if the public trust it to their note, the public have only themselves to blame."

The Ledger is entirely mistaken in its supposition. The notes of the Park Bank are secured by Government and State Stocks, and cannot be discredited while the rejection of the Park did not involve at all the question of its standing, but was the result simply of a desire that no precedent should be established for the admission of banks with capitals not fully paid up. If the remaining $300,000 of the capital was paid in, the Park would be admitted at once.
